About the Journal of Air Transportation World Wide

The Journal of Air Transportation World Wide's (JATWW) mission is to provide the global community immediate key resource information in all areas of air transportation. Our goal is to be recognized as the preeminent scholarly journal in the aeronautical aspects of transportation. As an international and interdisciplinary journal, the JATWW will provide a forum for peer-reviewed articles in all areas of aviation and space transportation, research, policy, theory, practice, and issues.

Development:

The JATWW was conceptualized to fulfill an international void of scholarly publications in this area as identified by the primary organizers. It is envisioned that aviation leaders will utilize the JATWW as a key decision-making tool. The JATWW will follow the example of several existing journals in other disciplines. Scholarly rigor and standard will be uncompromised.

Scope:

The JATWW will accept manuscripts on all topics that relate to air transportation, both technical and non-technical. The Panel of Reviewers represent the interdisciplinary nature of air transportation to ensure review by recognized experts. Broad categories of appropriate topics include, but are not limited to:

- Aviation Administration, Management, Economics, Education,
Technology, and Science
- Intermodal Transportation
- Aerospace Education and Flight
- Airports, Air Traffic Control
- Air Transportation Systems: Domestic, International, Comparative
- Aviation/Aerospace Psychology, Human Factors, Safety, and Human Resources
- Avionics, Computing, and Simulation
- Human Resources in Aerospace
- Space Transportation Safety, Communications, and the Future
- Other areas of air and space transportation research, policy, theory, case study, practice, and issues.
